

A SCHMAHL SCIENCE WORKSHOP SUMMER CAMPS 2009!

Edenvale Elementary School
285 Azucar Ave
San Jose, CA 95111

Discover the science behind this summer's fun

ONE-WEEK STUDENT-INSPIRED HANDS-ON SCIENCE SUMMER CAMPS

Sessions in June REGISTRATION DEADLINE: June 15, 2009.

Who We Are:

A Schmah Science Workshop was created to EXPLODE the myth of science as a dry, dull subject. Through the leadership of an executive and a student board as well as a network of supporters from the local scientific community, thousands of elementary through high school students in Silicon Valley have directly benefited from the Schmah Science Workshop experience. Our students discover that science is an everlasting hands-on adventure, in which imagination and creativity can enable young people to have fun as they apply the scientific process, learn core scientific principles and make exciting new discoveries on their own.

Grades K/1: 8:30 am - 10:30 am
25 student limit - First Come, First Serve

June 22 - June 26: Critter Week - Learn about animals as diverse as insects and raptors, and more! Through this hands-on camp, children will learn the importance of kindness and compassion toward all living creatures.

Explorations include:

Fee $130 per student per Camp

- Day 1: Fur, Feathers and Scales
- Day 2: Those Amazing Insects!
- Day 3: What's In The Soil
- Day 4: Reptile and Amphibian Adaptations
- Day 5: Bird World
